About Cat Belue: Cat is a southerner by birth and desert rat by choice, having called the Old Pueblo home for the past 14 years.

A daily journaler, Cat started storytelling with the Tucson group Female Storytellers, aka FSTI, in 2014. In addition to performing on stage, she also serves on the Selection Committee. Cat is a proud member of the LGBTQ community and shares her life with 2 adorable grown up puppies.

Cat believes everyone deserves to have their voices heard and that in the telling of stories, we heal ourselves and the world.
